Raj Dhillon
Manager of Advocacy and Public Policy,
Breathe California of Los Angeles
NSAC Advisory Committee

Raj Dhillon has nearly a decade of experience in the political arena, government relations, and legislative analysis and advocacy. He currently serves as the Manager of Advocacy & Public Policy for BREATHE California of Los Angeles County (BREATHE LA), an environmental health nonprofit organization focused on air quality and lung health issues. Previously, Raj worked for Senate Majority Leader Robert M. Hertzberg dating back to Senator Hertzberg's 2014 campaign for State Senate.

Arriving at BREATHE LA to revitalize the Advocacy & Public Policy department, Raj pursues legislation to improve lung health, and he seeks to develop strategies to increase the number of clean drayage trucks. Prior to joining BREATHE LA, Raj's time in Senator Hertzberg's office is where Raj developed the largest and most comprehensive internship program in the legislature while having spearheaded research on several topics that included government efficiency, tax reform, and housing/homelessness.

Raj earned his B.A. in Political Science & Government and his Master of Public Administration (MPA) from California State University, Northridge (CSUN). He is proud to serve on boards in addition to NSAC's Advisory Committee, including the Advisory Board of CSUN's MPA Program and on the Board of Directors of New Directions for Youth, Inc., a comprehensive youth development agency. Furthermore, Raj maintains an active network in the California Democratic Party and Young Democrats groups.
