

Yogi Hale Hendlin, PhD
NSAC Advisory Committee Member

Yogi Hale Hendlin is an environmental philosopher and public health scientist. Having worked at the University of California, San Francisco recurrently since 2006, Hendlin is currently a Research Associate with the Environmental Health Initiative (PRHE). Hendlin is also Assistant Professor in the Erasmus School of Philosophy, Core Faculty of the Dynamics of Inclusive Prosperity Initiative, and Sustainability Lead in the Design, Impact, and Transitions platform at Erasmus University Rotterdam, in the Netherlands. Hendlin's expertise is in diagnosing and treating industrial epidemics, such as the tobacco, chemical, and waste epidemics which cause a host of chronic diseases. This research is deeply attentive to the social determinants of health and environmental justice, which Hendlin sees as key to attaining a just transition to a circular economy.
