

Vernell Hill
Development Executive & Channel Manager,
Advantech
NSAC Advisory Committee Member

Vernell Hill is the former President and Founder of Llex Conglomerate where he specialized in Sustainable Business Strategy. He is a Strategy and Implementation Consultant, Impact Investor, & Strategic Advisor to various other companies in a range of industries. Currently he helps Fortune 500's and large private companies develop and scale technology solutions.

Vernell is established in a large network of Angel Investors. Vernell was formerly partnered with Michelle Obama's company PHA and has consulted Fortune 500's that impact millions of people and have between 1,000-400,000 employees through that partnership. He's been featured in several magazines and has a special interest in helping underserved communities develop economically by providing resources to help startups in these areas manage, grow, and scale their businesses.

Vernell finished his Sustainable Business Strategy and Strategy Execution Credential at Harvard Business School, Executive Leadership, Business Strategy, and Performance Leadership Credentials at Cornell Johnson Graduate School of Management and is currently getting his Master of Science in Development Economics (DEDP) at MIT.

vernell.hill@advantech.com (213) 800-1269
LinkedIn Profile